Current Comment

Three or four years ago when the great delusion prevailed that the United States was rich enough to put all the rest of the world on a pension, a religious body declared that it was selfish for the United States to enjoy such prosperity while so much of the rest of the world was in want, and suggested that it was time to begin to "whack up."

Since that time, through the thimblerigging of the international bankers, who seem for very practical reasons to have the same idea, we have been financing the rest of the world to the point where a cave-in of our debtors has seriously affected American industry and employment. Now the same type of altruist is crying out against the American government and social system because we are poorer than we used to be, and many Americans have no sufficient means of sustenance.

That is of course a beautiful idea—dividing up with the rest of the world, and bringing the standard of life of Americans down to that of the billion people of the Orient, for instance ,who live in filth, poverty and ignorance. By such a redistribution of the wealth of the world, the leve lof this billion Asiatics would not be much raised, but rather that Americans would be greatly degraded.

Now if present conditions in America are to be complained of, what could be said of the situation when Americans are put on a bare sustenance basis, which is the average basis today with fully three-fourths of the world's population?

The prosperity of America is not something that fell like manna from heaven. Our standards of life have not been attained without labor and sacrifice, without toil and struggle. We have not attained these unique standards at the sacrifice of the well-being of other peoples. What logical reason exists for asserting that peoples who have not put forth the effort, or used the wisdom that has put America where she is, have an equal right, with Americans, to what has been achieved in this nation? And how many Americans actually believe that effort should be exerted to pauperize their country and their countrymen, the only possible way in which a common world level can be brought about? How many of those who advocate such a policy are ready to divide up all they have with others less fortunate or successful, to prove good faith? Is Owen D. Young, who preaches this idea, ready to begin at home with his "whacking up" program?

Our eight per cent of the world's population cannot lift the remaining 92 per cent to our level. The only possible effect of such an effort would be to degrade the American standard of life, with all it involves of progress beyond the material, to that of Europeans and Asiatics, without helping them.

Liberty and opportunity can come to any people only through their willingness to strive for it.

Trumpet solo, Betty Keesling, Olga Brydon, accompanist; saxaphone duet, Vincent Frantangelo, Lon Gerrans; flute solo, Mona Keesling, accompanist; trumpet solo, Wilbur Morton, Delyth Cameron, accompanist.

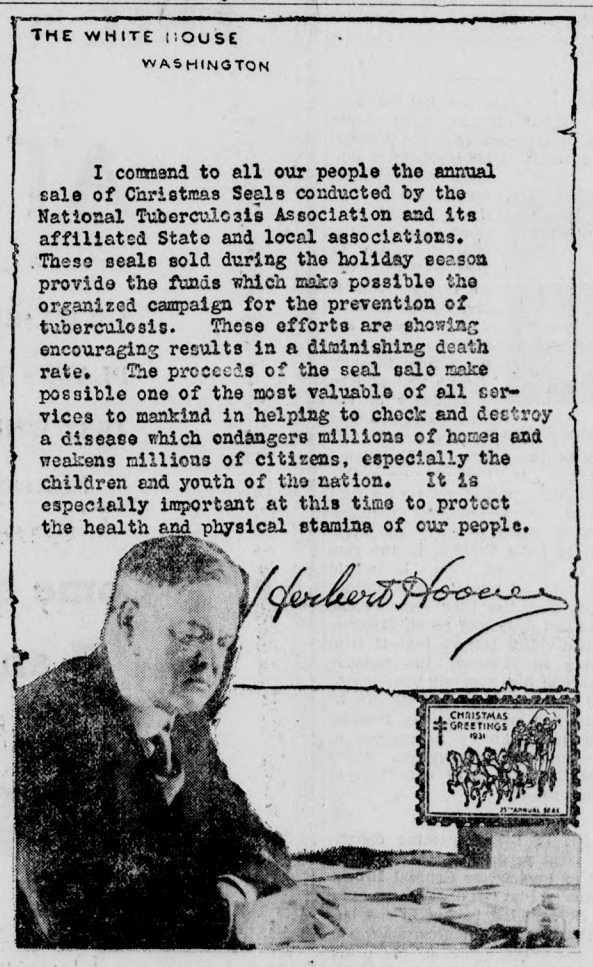
I'm Sure There Is a Santa Claus

Foreign Program Held by P. T. A.

Following the supper at 6:30, the members of the high school P. T. A. enjoyed an international program, arranged by Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Spanish teacher at the school. The program included a Japanese song, a Spanish song, two Latin recitations, an accordian solo and a highly entertaining Spanish play in which 30 pupils of the high school took part. The cast for the play was taken from the class of the high school and was very well done.



THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
I commend to all our people the annual sale of Christmas Seals conducted by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated State and local associations. These seals sold during the holiday season provide the funds which make possible the organized campaign for the prevention of tuberculosis. These efforts are showing encouraging results in a diminishing death rate. The proceeds of the seal sale make possible one of the most valuable of all services to mankind in helping to check and destroy a disease which endangers millions of homes and weakens millions of citizens, especially the children and youth of the nation. It is especially important at this time to protect the health and physical stamina of our people.
Herbert Hoover
CHRISTMAS GREETINGS 1931

Three hundred and seventy-five new cases of tuberculosis developed in Santa Clara county last year and only 125 of them came into contact with qualified physicians for proper treatment.

Sixty-nine persons died from the disease in the first six months of the year, and it is estimated that 3105 children were thrown into contact with sufferers of the disease during the same period.

The great group of those afflicted with the disease who do not, for some reason or other, receive the constant care of trained medical experts is the field of activity of the Tuberculosis Association of Santa Clary county. And the whole year-around program of the association is financed by the sale of penny Christmas seals, now under way.

Trained association workers, constantly in touch with sanitorium and preventorium physicians, school nurses and health workers, by studying height and weight charts and by conferences with teachers are weeding out children who are suffering from the disease in its earlier stages or who appear susceptible to it. Either by directing proper eating and rest habits or by placing the child under medical care, t hese association workers are able to prevent development of the disease or to aid the child in throwing it off.

Importance of the work is recognized throughout the nation. President Herbert Hoover has urged citizens of the nation to purchase the seals to enable the work to go on. Leaders in every state, including Governor James Rolph, Jr., have appealed for its support. And here in Santa Clara county, county medical authorities urged purchases of the seals.

LOCAL THEATER WILL HOLD TWO BENEFIT SHOWS

"The Spirit of Notre Dame," Universal's rapid-fire football picture which presents Lew Ayers in the starring role, is regarded as the screen's most timely and genuinely interesting story of the gridiron. It is to be shown at the Campbell theater Thursday and Friday, Dec. 17 and 18, and will be a benefit show for the Campbell Boy Scouts. Tickets are already being sold and the proceeds go towards the purchase of new uniforms for the boys.

Saturday at the theater will be shown the sensational melodrama of the air, "Sky Raiders," featuring Lloyd Hughes and Marceline Day. This picture is built around the adventures of air gangsters and air express carriers and contains innumerable feats of daring in the air. There will be a matinee Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

"The Criminal Code" with Walter Huston, in the leading role of prison warden will play at the theater Sunday and Monday evenings and Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This is a powerful, romantic drama,. and well worth seeing.

Tuesday and Wednesday George Arliss in his greatest play, "Alexander Hamilton," will be shown at the Campbell theater. These performances will be held for the benefit of the Campbell unemployed. Under the sponsorship of the Morning Light Lodge, I.O.O.F. all proceeds will be given to families in urgent need.

A free Christmas show under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of Campbell for the children will be given Christmas day at the Campbell Vitaphone Theater.

The Campbell W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. R. W. Kennedy at 131 North First street Wednesday, December 16 at 2:30 p. m.

CAMPBELL HIGH GIVES COMBINED MUSICAL CONCERT

In a concert last Friday evening in the grammar school auditorium, the combined high school band-orchestra-glee club gave an exceptionally fine and well-balanced evening of music. Under the leadership of A. A. Thielke, these young musicians furnished one of the most interesting concerts they have yet given.

The band opened the program with Rosenkrans "U. S. Naval Academy" which had enough stirring spirit to gain the rapt attention of the large audience. They followed this with a David Coate number and then swept into one of Ernest Weber's famous tone poems, "Twilight in the Mountains". No band concert is complete without a vigorous, feet-stirring march, and the band topped off their splendid work with King's "Imperial March".

The splendidly trained and admirably handled orchestra gave the enjoyable Undine Overture of G. A. Lortzing. The depth and feeling of this orchestra, composed as it is of students in their teens, was really remarkable and would do credit to an organization of more mature musicians.

The glee club sang the beautiful Wagner "Pilgram's Chorus" and Affenbach's Barcarolle, "Silent Now the Drowsy Bird". The voices, though still young, were of a quality that could proudly be displayed by a larger city. These numbers were especially well received by an audience that was now thoroughly pleased.

The program ended with the orchestra smoothly playing a Strauss number and F. V. Suppe's Overture, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna".

Under the leadership of Thielke, and with such concert masters as Mildred Pyle (orchestra) and Fred Cali (band), the Campbell musical organizations have attained a real height of excellance. Their work promises much in the way of pleasurable future concerts.

Congregational Guild Holds Final Meet

The Congregational Guild concluded its year's activities Thursday with a "favorite recipe" luncheon preceding the annual meeting. The tables were prettily arranged and decorated with holly and red tapers.

Reports from the three group secretaries, Mrs. Horace Person, Spring division; Mrs. H. C. Smith, Summer division, and Mrs. Lillian Shaw, Autumn division and general treasurer showed a very fine financial status as the result of the year's efforts.

The new officers elected include Miss Jessie Lewis, president; Mrs. W. F. Grattan, first vice president; Mrs. G. E. Jeffers, second vice president; Mrs. T. A. Cutting, secretary, and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, treasurer.

A rearrangement of group membership for 1932 was made by selecting names from a wheel of fortune.

A program is being arranged by the grammar school to be presented Friday afternoon, Dec. 18 in the auditorium. All classes will be represented in the entertainment.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Opening of the Seventy-Second Congress—President Hoover and Secretary Mellon Call for Higher Taxes—Germany Reduces Everything.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

WITH the Democrats in control of the house and John Nance Garner of Texas elected and installed as speaker, the Seventy-second congress began its work on time. Representatives of the majority party celebrated their new status in the lower chamber with wild cheering and "rebel" yells. But the senate was fittingly more sedate and its first session was brief and formal. Next day the fireworks began in that chamber with the anticipated revolt of the progressives against the re-election of Senator Moses of New Hampshire as president pro tempore. They have never forgiven him for calling them "sons of the wild jackass," so they gave their seven votes to Norris of Nebraska. The Democrats voted solidly for Pittman of Nevada, but fell short of the required forty-five votes by three, so there was a deadlock that threatened to last a long time.

Speaker J. N. Garner

The most interesting event in the senate was the swearing in of Mrs. Hattie Caraway of Arkansas to fill the seat of her late husband. Introduced by Senator Robinson, she took the oath of office, signed the register and quietly returned to her seat, almost in tears. Her associates all gathered about to congratulate her, but there was no gayety in the affair, for the memory of her husband was ever present. In all, sixteen new senators presented themselves to take the oath, nearly all of them being first term Democrats.

Nearly one hundred new members of the house were installed, and so many of them were Democrats that Mr. Garner won the speakership by the following vote: Garner, 218; Snell, Republican, 207; Schneider of Wisconsin, progressive Republican, 5. Kvale of Minnesota, the lone Farmer-Laborite, voted for Schneider. Of course all the other officers of the house are now Democrats.

Mrs. Caraway

The first actual work in the house was the adoption of new rules, so liberalized that it will no longer be easy for bills to be pigeonholed by the committees to which they have been referred. Now 145 members can procure the discharge of a committee and bring a bill to the floor for a vote. This change was made especially for the benefit of the proponents of modification of the dry laws, and the stage was set for an early vote on some of their bills, which will put the representatives on record though there is no hope for the passage of the measure.

While congress was assembling and going through the business of the first day, the Communist "hunger marchers" who had traveled to the Capital by automobile and auto truck from various parts of the country besieged the Capitol building and the White House in vain efforts to lay their demands before the legislators and the President. They were rebuffed, fairly, gently, by the police and other officials, and next day started home, still discontented and defiant.

ECONOMIES in the navy and army which were urged by the President were the objects of further attacks. Early in the week President W. H. Gardiner of the Navy league came out with a new assault on the administration policies in that respect, criticizing a statement by Secretary Stimson, hitting back at the Hammond committee, assailing the President for slowing up cruiser construction and calling on congress for an investigation of Mr. Hoover's financial policy toward the navy.

Next, National Commander Stevens of the American Legion conveyed to the President the legion's demand that he approve authorization of warship construction necessary to bring the American fleet up to the maximum tonnage limits of the London treaty. The organization also asked congress and the administration to rescind the economies for the military establishment and to renew for the army, National Guard, R. O. T. C., and other military activities the same sums appropriated for the current year.

Finally came the annual report of Rear Admiral F. B. Upham, chief of the bureau of navigation, which termed the administration policy of reduction a severe blow to the national defense. He said that history shows that decreases in the navy eventually result in expenditures many times greater than the temporary savings.

Mr. Stevens of the American Legion also called personally at the White House and told Mr. Hoover the legion not only is for adequate national defense but also is in favor of submitting to the people the matter of repeal or modification of the dry laws.

PRESIDENT HOOVER on Tuesday transmitted to congress his message on the state of the Union, in which he sketched the economic crisis confronting the country, related in considerable detail the measures he has initiated to alleviate the business depression and unemployment and recommended in general terms legislation creating additional instrumentalities for the same purpose and increasing taxes to meet a three and a half billion dollar deficit this year and next.

President Hoover.

Regular Republicans declared the message represented constructive statesmanship of a high order, while Democrats and progressive Republicans took it as a challenge. Generally it was accepted as the opening gun of the 1932 campaign. There was much comment on the fact that no mention was made of prohibition.

On Wednesday Mr. Hoover sent in his budget message, containing the administration's program of taxation and other measures of government financing. At the same time the annual report of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was made public. This called for increased rates on personal and corporation incomes, inheritances, tobacco and capital stock sales.

New Levies would be imposed on automobiles, radios, telephone, telegraph and cable messages, amusement tickets, checks and drafts and realty sales. Postal charges would be boosted. Exemptions from income taxes would be lowered to include 1,700,000 new individuals within the scope of the federal levy.

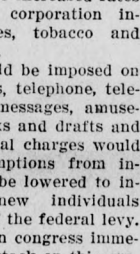
The Democrats in congress immediately began an attack on this program, saying they would soon have ready one of their own.

THIRD in the list of Presidential messages came the one on foreign relations, which contained the request that congress ratify the Hoover moratorium. More important than that was the suggestion that the war debt commission should be reconstituted with power to reopen the debt settlements. Though Mr. Hoover reiterated his disapproval of cancellation of the war debts, such action, or at least a further reduction of the debts seemed, to many congressmen, to be implicit in his proposal. So many of them object to either course that a long debate was in prospect.

JAPAN and China accepted the proposal of the League of Nations council for cessation of hostilities in Manchuria, while a neutral commission inquires into the facts, but both nations made reservations that rendered the agreement little more than a form by which the council saves its face.

Premier Wakatsuki's Japanese cabinet decided to resign because of dissensions, and it was thought a coalition ministry would be formed with Inuwai, leader of the Seiyukai party, as premier.

HIS national socialists or "Nazis" now being in control of three German states and constituting the most powerful political party in the country, Adolf Hitler has been talking freely to correspondents on his intentions. Briefly, he proposes, when his party is invested with the governing power by way of the ballot box, to set up a dictatorship on the Italian model; to recognize and pay to the fullest of Germany's ability all her foreign debts contracted in business and normal transactions, but to reject "political blackmail"; to insist upon a new war debt arrangement; and to destroy communism in Germany. He declares there will be no Nazi march on Berlin, and denies that he seeks the presidency.



Adolf Hitler

Hitler's challenge to the government brought swift response from Chancellor Bruening in the form of a warning that President Von Hindenburg would invoke martial law if necessary to save the constitution. At the same time the President signed and made public a drastic emergency decree designed to close up what Bruening called "the deflation period imposed upon Germany." The decree reduces wage scales to the level of 1927 and cuts rents, food prices and about all other living costs. It also reduces interest rates, imposes compensatory taxes on imports and strengthens measures against the flight of capital.

GERMANY'S capacity to pay reparations and especially her ability to resume payments next summer are being studied by the consultative committee of the Bank for International Settlements at Basel, Switzerland. Walter W. Stewart, American member, refusing to accept the chairmanship, that place was given to Dr. Alberto Beneduce of Italy. Carl Joseph Melchior was the first person heard, the burden of his argument being that Germany could no longer pay reparations. This is, indeed, the view of millions of Germans of all parties.

THREE great farm groups, the American Farm bureau, the National Farmers' union and the Grange, in session in Chicago, united on plans to fight in congress for surplus crop control. Their leaders said their demands would be for the export debenture and the equalization fee, and that their disagreements of the past on these matters had been adjusted. Amendments to the agricultural marketing act to permit the farm board to use those principles will be introduced in the senate and house soon after the holiday recess. The organizations will offer no objections to the program of the farm board other than the stabilization operations.

MISS JANE ADDAMS, founder of Hull House in Chicago, and Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, were jointly awarded the Nobel peace prize for 1931 by the Nobel institute of Oslo, Norway. The prize amounts to $40,000. Both of them have been indefatigable workers for international peace.

TOBACCO raisers of Kentucky don't intend to let their product go for what they think are ruinous prices. When the Lexington tobacco market, the largest loose leaf burley mart in the world, opened the other day the low price of $12 a hundredweight was offered, and the growers at once started a riotous demonstration that caused abrupt suspension of sales with ten million pounds of leaf unsold. After fighting with warehousemen and the police, the planters, numbering hundreds, held a protest meeting in the city auditorium where speakers urged them to stand together and not "give their tobacco away to the trust."

NOT long ago the Belgian government intimated to Archduke Otto, pretender to the Hungarian throne, this his presence in Belgium was proving embarrassing, so the young man went over to England incognito to visit a British ducal family. Now it is rumored in London that plans are afoot to put him on the throne through a coup that will be a reminder of the way Carol returned to Rumania. The story is that a group of Hungarian noblemen, in England ostensibly for hunting, really went to accept delivery of a powerful seaplane which is ready to carry the archduke to Lake Balaton in the center of Hungary where he would take oath as king in a miniature chapel that has been built in the plane and dedicated to St. Stephen.

Archduke Otto

Monarchists believe that if Otto returns to Hungary the peasant support of his cause will be strengthened and solidified and he can be established on the throne. Premier Mussolini is known to approve of the Hapsburg restoration, which gives the friends of Otto lots of encouragement.

ONE of the interesting department reports of the week was that of Postmaster General Brown. It showed that the department came out $146,066,189 behind in the last fiscal year, which is almost $48,000,000 above the deficit of the previous year. Mr. Brown repeated his recommendation that the letter rate be raised from 2 cents to 2½ cents, stating that on the present volume this would bring in $50,000,000 a year additional.

"A 2½ cent rate would, however, obviously fall far short of producing adequate revenues at the present time," the report said. "The deficit for 1931 attributable to strictly postal operations was more than $98,000,000 and if present trends are maintained the net deficit for the current year will be in the neighborhood of $150,000,000.

"This raises the question whether, in view of the already overtaxed condition of the general treasury, it would not be advisable, pending the return of normal conditions, to fix a 3-cent rate for letter mail.

BEWARE
Smooth-worn tires skid on winter roads

Don't wait for accidents—get new rubber on every wheel now. New tires mean safety—you need them more right now than at any time in the year. It's a fact, good tires show almost no wear in cold wet weather—they'll still be "new" next spring. » » » » »

Four tabls of Dutch whist were played and then a delicious supper was served at the small tables, each of which was centered with a red candle twined with smilax.

The guests bidden to share the ohspitality of the hosts were Messrs. and Mesdames Herbert A. Butts, I. A. Latta, William J. King, Frank E. Ring, Harry C. Smith, R. E. Gunsolus, M. E. Mumma, Oscar H. Butts, John H. Eastman, Mrs. William Denhart, Mrs. E. B. Taintor and Dr. J. Fleming.

The last meeting of the Pundita Circle for the year 1931 was held at the home of Mrs. Wendell Thomas on the Alameda, Wednesday, Dec. 9. Mrs. Louis Carboni and Mrs. D. H. Cramer were co-hostesses with Mrs. Thomas.

A brief business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. George Page and was followed by the topic for the day, "Christmas Musi cand Art." Mrs. Cramer read a paper on the meaning of Christmas through the different periods of one's life. Mrs. Carboni gave an interesting talk on Christmas art.
